VANDALS IN CONTROL OROZCO DRIVEN FROM CITY OF TIENTSIN THE FEDERAL RANKS

Plundering Mobs Run Riot, Applying the Torch Unrestrained

GERMAN DOCTOR IS KILLED

Foreigners So Far as is Known Escaped Injury During Scenes of Violence—Soldiers of Sixth Division After Pillaging Town Move on Toward Peking—American Troops Arrive at Capital to Help Protect the Foreign Legations.

Tientsin, March 4.—Conditions here are worse than can be imagined. The mobs are pillaging the native city and an attack is momentarily expected from the mutinous soldiers. The pillaging which began in the native city extended to a foreign quarter, but has now ceased. A German doctor was killed during the rioting.

Reports from Peking say the conditions there are alarming. The mail is bound from here to Peking was compelled to return to Tientsin. A detachment of American troops arrived at Peking and 200 French soldiers left here for the capital. Pao Ting Pu has been burned and killed by the Chinese soldiers of the 10th division, who are now marching on Peking. The authorities have set up a portion of the Peking & Hankow railway in an effort to improve their progress. The consular body met and decided to place everything in the hands of the military commanders, as it is feared that the foreign settlements will be attacked. At a meeting of the diplomats at Peking it was decided to increase the guard by 1,000 men. There have been some incendiary and looting at Peking, but everything is quiet at the foreign legations at present.

The capital fires are raging in Tientsin on both sides of the river. Mutineers Near City.

The Peking mutineers are reported to be nearing the city and at last accounts were only three miles from the native city, where the pillaging is still going on. A battalion of the Inniskilling dragoons which had been sent from Tientsin to Feng-Tai arrived at the latter place. When they reached the village, where the conditions were reported to be alarming, the commander of the Inniskilling, General Hancock, sent an ultimatum to the Chinese general, whose troops occupied the south side of the railway, to evacuate his position immediately. Two hundred and fifty of the Inniskilling remain at Feng-Tai, which is reported quiet, although considerable looting is in progress in the neighborhood. One hundred and fifty men of the Somerset (British) infantry entrained for Peking.

YANKEES AT PEKING

Parade Streets to Impress Rioters in Chinese Capital.

Peking, March 4.—American, French and British reinforcements for the legation guards arrived here, and more are on the way. A detachment of legation guards to the number of 700 paraded the streets. The display was intended for a moral effect on the restless element. It evidently had the desired effect. There was no incident of any kind during the progress of the procession. Four British regiments are on the way here from Hongkong, and Japanese reinforcements are also coming. The summary beheading of rioters caught here continues, and it appears to be extremely efficacious in checking the sacking of stores and shops. The city is wonderfully quiet. A battalion of American infantry is guarding the foreign missions.

Taft Wants Conference

Wants Business Men to Discuss Needed Legislation.

Washington, March 4.—President Taft has taken the initiative in a movement to bring business men of the country into touch with the government for advice and counsel in the administration of laws, the enactment of new statutes and the development of commerce.

Virtually, the president proposes a national board of trade, broadly representative of the commercial and industrial organizations, and of such character as the government may properly recognize by a charter from congress.

As one of the first steps in this plan Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor, by direction of the president, has called a convention of delegates from commercial organizations in all parts of the country to meet in Washington April 15 for discussion and to plan the organization. Invitations already have been sent to 1,000 chambers of commerce, boards of trade and other commercial bodies.

Actress Dies in New York After a Short Illness.

DEATH TAKES ACTRESS

Sudden Illness Proves Fatal to Mrs. Annie Yeamans.

New York, March 4.—Mrs. Annie Yeamans, the actress, died in her apartments at the hotel Gerard, at the age of 76. She suffered a slight stroke of apoplexy on Jan. 18, but recovered sufficiently to be about the hotel and to drive out some. She was out driving as late as a week ago. She became worse, and suffered a second stroke. She sank rapidly after that until her death. With her when she died were her only surviving daughter, Mrs. Lydia Yeamans Titus of London, and Mrs. Elizabeth Fox, who had long been the aged woman's companion.

JUSTICE AWAKES

Parsons, Father of Sugar Trust, Put on Trial After Long Delay.

New York, March 4.—John E. Parsons, "father of the sugar trust" and a former director of that combine, was brought to trial in the United States district court here this morning, and after delays and postponements covering a period of two years he will answer to the charge of entering into a conspiracy to form a monopoly in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. He was indicted by the federal grand jury July 1, 1909, entered a plea of "not guilty" the following week and was paroled pending trial.

THIRTY-FIVE KILLED IN FIGHT

Madero's Lieutenant Had Tip That Former Leader Intended to Turn City Over to Rebels and Upset Plans by Taking Possession Himself—Orozco Discloses Hand When He Wires Rush Order to Juarez For Insurgent Reinforcements.

El Paso, Tex., March 4.—In a battle at Chihuahua, capital of the state of Chihuahua, thirty-five men were killed. Pancho Villa attacked the town with 500 men after demanding its surrender from Pascual Orozco, the commander. Orozco and his men were driven out and his appeal to the rebels in Juarez for reinforcements leads to the conclusion that Orozco has joined the rebels and that Villa has remained loyal, and that knowing that Orozco was ready to turn against the government, Villa decided to take the town, entrench himself and prepare to resist the invaders from Juarez rather than let Orozco remain in charge in Chihuahua and turn over the town to the rebels when they arrived.

TAFT IS PRAISED

Foreign Diplomats Indorse Stand on Mexican Situation.

Washington, March 4.—Foreign diplomats in Washington expressed interest in the action of President Taft in issuing a proclamation of warning to Americans and others in the United States and to Americans in Mexico to keep their fingers out of internal affairs in Mexico. It is understood the action of the administration has the indorsement of the European powers interested.

The intimation given publicly in some circles that the action was merely a blind in order to get Americans out of Mexico as quickly as possible in view of the possibility of intervention is deprecated, but there is no doubt that the administration has planned a course of action in case of general attacks upon Americans and their property.

Cold Waves Unsighted

Weather Bureau Predicts Milder Temperature This Week.

Washington, March 4.—The weather bureau issued the following weekly bulletin.

The general distribution of atmospheric pressure over the northern hemisphere is such as to indicate that there will be no cold wave to cross the country during the present week, and that there will be a general though gradual reaction to normal temperatures over the region east of Rocky mountains tomorrow and Wednesday and moderate temperatures thereafter until the close of the week. Disturbances that now cover the west will advance slowly eastward and cause a continuation of unsettled weather, with rains in southern and snow and rain in middle and northern states east of the Rockies during the next several days. The next disturbance to cross the country will appear in the far west Thursday or Friday and prevail over the middle west at the end of the week.

WOMAN SUFFOCATED

Body of Church Worker Cremated in Gotham Fire.

New York, March 4.—Mrs. Ella White, for 12 years a church "visitor" for the Madison Avenue Reformed church and secretary to the pastor, the Rev. Dr. William Carter, was suffocated and burned to death in a fire, during which there were 10 or more spectacular rescues by firemen and police, and which destroyed the boarding house run by Mrs. Ann Reynolds at 695 Madison avenue.

San Jose, Costa Rica, March 4.—Secretary Knox and party left this morning for Punta Arenas.

Fear Inability to Keep Refrigerators Running When Coal Supply Plays Out and Order Vessels to Stop at Intermediate Ports. Many Trawlers at One Port Unable to Go After Fish on Account of High Price of Fuel.

London, March 4.—As the result of the miners' strike, the scarcity of coal is coming to the front as the chief problem of the day. The shortage of coal threatens to be immediate and of gradual in consequence of action of importers in stopping Italian and Argentine cargoes on the way here. They have not been able to maintain the refrigerators if they are landed. They consequently telegraphed to intermediate ports, holding up the ships with meat cargoes there, and to be able to refrigerate them at the expense of small cargoes of coal. Several cargoes already been held up in this way.

High price of coal prevents many fish from working at a profit. Most of these boats have been laid at Leith alone. All foodstuffs, with a few exceptions, will advance in price today. British regiments of the guards are kept in constant telecommunication with the war

LADIES WILL SWAMP CON=CON

Suffragets Will Flood Convention During Present Week.

Columbus, O., March 4.—Early this week petitions bearing several thousand names will be sent to the constitutional convention asking that the convention submit the question of woman suffrage to the people. The petitions will be sent directly to Chairman Kilpatrick of the equal suffrage and elective franchise committee of the convention, and will be filed by him. The first consignment of petitions will contain 10,000 names and will fill several bushel baskets. Mrs. Hermon Hubbard, leader of the "anti-suffragets," has replied to the challenge for a joint debate issued some days ago by Miss H. Anna Quinn, president of the Ohio Woman Taxpayers' league. Mrs. Hubbard says she has the challenge under consideration and will give it due attention. The anti-suffragets gave out the following statement:

MAKE PUBLIC TEDDY'S LETTER

Taft Forces Seek to Show He Promised Not to Run.

Washington, March 4.—Reports from Oyster Bay to the contrary notwithstanding, documentary evidence is said to be in existence in this city demonstrating that Theodore Roosevelt gave assurances to Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Meyer that he would not be a candidate for the presidential nomination this year in opposition to Mr. Taft. This evidence is in the form of what purports to be a letter written by Colonel Roosevelt under date of June 27, 1911, of which the following is an extract.

"I have expressed myself perfectly freely to a large number of men in this matter, always to the effect, telling you, for instance, personally, and those who were with you at lunch at my house and telling Gifford Pinchot, Jim Garfield and Congressman Madison, and Billy Loeb and Secretary Meyer and Secretary Stimson, all alike, just exactly what I have said always, that I would not be a candidate in 1912 myself and that I had no intention of taking any part in the nomination for or against any candidate."

It is altogether probable that the full text of the Roosevelt letter of June 27, 1911, will be made public before the political campaign has proceeded very far.

Roosevelt Makes Reply.

New York, March 4.—The extract from the letter was read to Colonel Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and he handed out the following written statement:

"I will say nothing unless the name of the recipient of the letter is given and the letter published in full; probably the language is not correctly given. Certainly all the context in which I said I would refuse the nomination is suppressed. The letter published in the Chicago Evening News a month ago contained substantially what I said in all these letters."

Murphy, Tammany Leader, and Former Lieut. Gov. Woodruff

THE funeral of State Senator Thomas F. Grady, for many years known as "the silver tongued orator" of the New York legislature, brought together many politicians of both parties, and thus it happened that our photographer "snapped" the leader of Tammany Hall and Timothy L. Woodruff, former Republican lieutenant governor of New York, as they stood together. While their party politics are different, both men are alike in that they are "regulars." Just at present it is easy for Mr. Murphy to be regular since he is the dominant power in the Democracy of New York city and state. Mr. Woodruff's loyalty had a test last fall, when the Republican voters of Brooklyn ousted him from his position as party leader in that borough, but as his power had been less nearly absolute than that of the Tammany leader he was doubtless able to accept the verdict philosophically. At any rate, his disappointment has left no mark upon his rotund visage. In the photograph Mr. Murphy is seen at the left, Mr. Woodruff at the right.

EARL FOY ENDS LIFE DRINKS CARBOLIC ACID

Domestic Trouble Blamed for Suicide of Earl Foy Sunday Night at Residence of James Lee on Sycamore Street---Swallows Two Ounces of Deadly Acid and Dies After Hours of Intense Agony.

Earl Foy, 33, a laborer, ended his life Sunday night by drinking the contents of a two-ounce bottle of carbolic acid, death resulting after several hours of the most horrible suffering. Domestic troubles probably caused him to commit the rash act.

At the time of the deed, Foy was at the residence of James Lee on S. Sycamore street, where he had gone to spend the night, and he had retired for the night, swallowing the deadly acid shortly before 9 o'clock and passing away at midnight, the efforts of the attending physician being of no avail owing to the large quantity of the acid which the man had swallowed.

Foy, who is a son of George Foy and has a number of relatives living in and near this city, had purchased the acid about 4:30 p. m., and after spending the evening with Mr. Lee, during which he is said to have talked about his family troubles, he was shown to a room for the night, and a short time later Mr. Lee was attracted to the room by Foy's agonized groans. He found the man writhing in agony and the empty bottle beside him. It was some time before a physician reached the spot, and when he did so, found Foy beyond human aid.

The remains were viewed by Coroner L. P. Howell Monday morning, and a verdict of suicide by swallowing carbolic acid will be returned. The remains were then taken charge of by Funeral Director Klever and removed to his undertaking establishment and prepared for burial. Funeral services will probably be held Tuesday.

New Pay System Is Inaugurated

City Auditor Pine and Service Director Baker have put into effect a new system of pay rolls, and hereafter street laborers will receive their wages in cash every Saturday, without discount.

The "due orders" which have been in vogue for a number of years have been dispensed with, and all those who now hold due orders against the city are expected to turn them in and receive cash as soon as possible.

This is expected to put an end to the "due orders" for all time to come.

For County Auditor

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Auditor in the primary election to be held May 21, 1912. I am now serving on my second term. The terms are now two years instead of three years as formerly. My first term began the third Monday of October, 1909, the second term the third Monday of October, 1911. In consideration of the fact that the electors of this county have been willing heretofore to give the County Auditor two terms of three years each, I feel that I may with propriety ask for as much, which would be three terms of two years each. My experience in the work in the past two and one half years certainly qualify me to be of more service to the public in the future. I shall be pleased to have your hearty support.

Strange Cactus in Arizona

Those who are familiar only with the small cacti of the ordinary garden must find it difficult to realize the great size attained by the cacti in the southwest, notably in Arizona. For that reason this photograph should be interesting as showing a giant of the species compared with a horse. It should be remarked further that the form taken by the plant—that of a spur—is decidedly curious. This was brought about by strong winds, which gradually bent the cactus over until its top touched the earth, when a second root formed. The type illustrated grows with remarkable rapidity.

Circular Saw

Harley Craiglow, aged 30 years, married, while working around a saw mill a few miles east of Circleville, was thrown upon a small circular saw when a steam pipe on the engine bursted, and his left arm mangled so that amputation may be necessary.

Had he been hurled a foot further the saw would have ended his life in an instant.

EARL FOY ENDS LIFE DRINKS CARBOLIC ACID

Domestic Trouble Blamed for Suicide of Earl Foy Sunday Night at Residence of James Lee on Sycamore Street—Swallows Two Ounces of Deadly Acid and Dies After Hours of Intense Agony.

Earl Foy, 23, a laborer, ended his life Sunday night by drinking the contents of a two-ounce bottle of carbolic acid, death resulting after several hours of the most horrible suffering. Domestic troubles probably caused him to commit the rash act.

At the time of the deed, Foy was at the residence of James Lee on S. Sycamore street, where he had gone to spend the night, and he had retired for the night, swallowing the deadly acid shortly before 9 o'clock and passing away at midnight, the efforts of the attending physician being of no avail owing to the large quantity of the acid which the man had swallowed.

Foy, who is a son of George Foy and has a number of relatives living in and near this city, had purchased the acid about 4:30 p. m., and after spending the evening with Mr. Lee, during which he is said to have talked about his family troubles, he was shown to a room for the night, and a short time later Mr. Lee was attracted to the room by Foy's agonized groans. He found the man writhing in agony and the empty bottle beside him. It was some time before a physician reached the spot, and when he did so, found Foy beyond human aid.

The remains were viewed by Coroner L. P. Howell Monday morning, and a verdict of suicide by swallowing carbolic acid will be returned. The remains were then taken charge of by Funeral Director Klever and removed to his undertaking establishment and prepared for burial. Funeral services will probably be held Tuesday.

Want to Feel Young?

It's Olive Tablets For You!

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, especially in Old People, unless you take yourself in hand.

Coax the jaded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistency and Nature's assistance.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

Try Olive Tablets mixed with olive oil and have no trouble with your bowels or stomach.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

Herbert C. Campbell PHOTOGRAPHER

Opposite Post Office Building

The deceased leaves a wife and a nine-year-old son, George. Before the alleged family trouble occurred he lived on John street in this city and was employed at The M. Hamm Company's works. Of late he had been working at odd jobs about the city.

Friday he appeared before Mayor Harvey W. Smith and filed charges against his wife, who he stated was in Wilmington. Mrs. Foy was arrested in Wilmington and Chief McCoy brought her to this city Sunday, placing her in jail.

Foy visited his wife at the county jail, and she threatened to have him arrested for some offense, whereupon Foy withdrew the charges against her if she would not have him arrested. This was agreed to and she was released.

Immediately following the meeting between husband and wife, during which Mrs. Foy is said to have informed her husband that she would not live with him, Foy purchased the phial of acid which ended his life.

In Foy's pockets were a number of letters which it is alleged had been written to his wife by another man. Brooding over his troubles undoubtedly caused him to drain the phial during a fit of dejection.

WASHINGTON WINS BASKETBALL GAME.

Some enthusiastic boys from Washington went to Frankfort Saturday night to play basketball. The game was very exciting and it was only by fast playing that the game was won. This is the first game the boys have played this season and it is hoped they will meet with another victory at Wilmington next Friday. Score 15 to 12.

R. M. Alexander Out For State Auditor

Friends of R. M. Alexander of Chillicothe, auditor of Ross county, have launched his boom for the Democratic nomination for auditor of state, to succeed E. M. Fullington. Mr. Alexander has had 14 years of experience in official life. He served four years as city clerk, six as city auditor and four as county auditor.

His campaigning qualities are attested by the remarkable race he made two years ago for re-election. He claims a good record in Ross county in the administration of the tax laws.

Mr. Alexander has a great many friends in this city and county.

New Pay System Is Inaugurated

City Auditor Pine and Service Director Baker have put into effect a new system of pay rolls, and hereafter street laborers will receive their wages in cash every Saturday, without discount.

The "due orders" which have been in vogue for a number of years have been dispensed with, and all those who now hold due orders against the city are expected to turn them in and receive cash as soon as possible.

This is expected to put an end to the "due orders" for all time to come.

For County Auditor

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Auditor in the primary election to be held May 21, 1912. I am now serving on my second term. The terms are now two years instead of three years as formerly. My first term began the third Monday of October, 1909, the second term the third Monday of October, 1911. In consideration of the fact that the electors of this county have been willing heretofore to give the County Auditor two terms of three years each, I feel that I may with propriety ask for as much, which would be three terms of two years each. My experience in the work in the past two and one half years certainly qualify me to be of more service to the public in the future. I shall be pleased to have your hearty support.

MEMOIR

Charles C., son of George and Martha Backenstoe, was born in Waynesboro, Augusta county, Virginia, August 29, 1843, and died February 26th, 1912, aged 68 years, 6 months and 3 days. He was one of a family of seven children, only three of whom survive him.

He was united in marriage to Miss Matilda Wiggins on March 14th, 1872.

To this union was born seven children, Mrs. George Bryant, Wert, Harry, Mrs. Wm. A. DeWitt, Mrs. W. E. Craig, Mrs. Lynn Smith and Mrs. Thomas Collopy, all of this city.

He united with the Presbyterian church several years ago under the pastorate of the late Dr. J. L. McNair and has always remained a faithful member.

His beloved wife preceded him to her heavenly home, having gone to her great reward in February, 1904. The greater part of his life has been lived in Washington C. H., having removed with his parents from Virginia in 1853, since which time this city has been his home.

Mr. Backenstoe has always been an honest, industrious citizen, and leaves many friends who will miss his genial presence, for he was possessed of a cheerful disposition. All that loving hearts and willing hands could do was done, but the end came all too soon and he has gone to meet the loved ones who are waiting on the other side.

"Hark! the song of holy rapture,
Hear it break from yonder strand,
Where our friends for us are waiting
In the golden summer land,
They have reached the port of glory,
O'er the Jordan they have passed,
And with millions they are shouting,
Home at last! home at last!
Look beyond, the skies are clearing,
See, the mist dissolves away;
Soon our eyes will catch the dawning
Of a bright celestial day.
Soon the shadows will be lifted,
And rejoicing we shall gather,
Home at last—Home at last.

The funeral services were held at East End Chapel on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Orndorff, assisted by Rev. Campbell.

Many and beautiful were the floral tributes which were received from friends and relatives.

WHAT ONE SPRAYING DEMONSTRATION DID.

About two years ago an instructor from the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, made an orchard pruning and spraying demonstration in Trimble township, Athens county, Ohio. A number of fruit growers attended and the last two seasons have seen marked improvement in the quality of apples raised.

Mr. A. A. Campbell, who was instrumental in having the demonstration made reports that two years ago there was practically no spraying done in the township. So far this year nearly a carload of lime-sulphur for spraying purposes has been sold to the farmers in the vicinity.

Several fruit growers sprayed their orchards immediately after the visit of the instructor, but others stated they had no faith in it and let the trees look after themselves. Those who did spray got such good results that the following season spraying was almost unanimous and the skeptics of the year before lined up to a man in favor of spraying.

Mr. Campbell writes: "The demonstration was a God-send to our neighborhood. It has caused old orchards to be cleaned up and many new ones to be planted. Business men are buying land and putting out fruit trees and, in short, Athens county is rapidly regaining her lost fruit industry."

W. A. Gibson Dead

The community was shocked and saddened to learn of the death of W. A. Gibson, son of Mrs. William Gibson, Sunday night at 8:30, at his home on Leesburg avenue.

For ten days Mr. Gibson has been fighting pneumonia, and, while his condition was known to be serious, hope of his recovery was entertained until the last.

Sad beyond measure is the death of the husband and father, leaving a frail wife and two young children and a large family connection to grieve for him.

Mr. Gibson was a man well thought of in the community and many friends sympathize deeply with his family. He was one of the most active workers in the Christian church, a trustee and chorister for a number of years, and his loss to this church is incomparable.

Mr. Gibson was also a member of the Washington orchestra and belonged to the Knights of the Golden Eagle. His wife was Miss Margaret Jones. He leaves besides her, two children by a former marriage, Charles Gibson, of Newark, and Mrs. Fannie Spitzer, of Cleveland.

Mrs. William Gibson, who is making her home with her daughter, Mrs. B. S. Cowman in Greenfield for the winter, came up on the afternoon train.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

MEMOIR

Charles C. son of George and Martha Backenstoe, was born in Waynesboro, Augusta county, Virginia, August 29, 1843, and died February 26th, 1912, aged 68 years, 6 months and 3 days. He was one of a family of seven children, only three of whom survive him.

He was united in marriage to Miss Matilda Wiggins on March 14th, 1872.

To this union was born seven children, Mrs. George Bryant, West Harry, Mrs. Wm. A. DeWitt, Mrs. W. E. Craig, Mrs. Lynn Smith and Mrs. Thomas Collopy, all of this city.

He united with the Presbyterian church several years ago under the pastorate of the late Dr. J. L. McNair and has always remained a faithful member.

His beloved wife preceded him to her heavenly home, having gone to her great reward in February, 1904. The greater part of his life has been lived in Washington C. H., having removed with his parents from Virginia in 1853, since which time this city has been his home.

Mr. Backenstoe has always been an honest, industrious citizen, and leaves many friends who will miss his genial presence, for he was possessed of a cheerful disposition. All that loving hearts and willing hands could do was done, but the end came all too soon and he has gone to meet the loved ones who are waiting on the other side.

"Hark! the song of holy rapture,
Hear it break from yonder strand,
Where our friends for us are waiting
In the golden summer land.
They have reached the port of glory,
O'er the Jordan they have passed,
And with millions they are shouting,
Home at last! home at last!
Look beyond, the skies are clearing,
See, the mist dissolves away;
Soon our eyes will catch the dawning
Of a bright celestial day.
Soon the shadows will be lifted,
And rejoicing we shall gather,
Home at last—Home at last.

The funeral services were held at East End Chapel on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Orndorff, assisted by Rev. Campbell. Many and beautiful were the floral tributes which were received from friends and relatives.

COMMITTEE

WHAT ONE SPRAYING DEMONSTRATION DID.

About two years ago an instructor from the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, made an orchard pruning and spraying demonstration in Trimble township, Athens county, Ohio. A number of fruit growers attended and the last two seasons have seen marked improvement in the quality of apples raised. Mr. A. A. Campbell, who was instrumental in having the demonstration made reports that two years ago there was practically no spraying done in the township. So far this year nearly a carload of lime-sulphur for spraying purposes has been sold to the farmers in the vicinity. Several fruit growers sprayed their orchards immediately after the visit of the instructor, but others stated they had no faith in it and let the trees look after themselves. Those who did spray got such good results that the following season spraying was almost unanimous and the skeptics of the year before lined up to a man in favor of spraying. Mr. Campbell writes: "The demonstration was a God-send to our neighborhood. It has caused old orchards to be cleaned up and many new ones to be planted. Business men are buying land and putting out fruit trees and, in short, Athens county is rapidly regaining her lost fruit industry."

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Plyley extended the hospitality of their delightful home at a most enjoyable family dinner Sunday. The affair was one of double interest in that it celebrated the 5th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Plyley, together with the birthday of Mrs. Plyley's mother, Mrs. Frank Evans.

The spacious rooms were fully ample for the occasion, and with the decorations of pink and white, made quite an attractive appearance.

Covers were laid for 20 and an elegant 6-course dinner served.

Those enjoying the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Plyley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stewart, Miss Lora Martin, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Michaels, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vincent, Mrs. Wm. Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Martin and daughter, Jean, Miss Grace Louderback, Isabel and Elden Evans.

Miss Emily Tanzey entertained with a chafing dish supper Saturday evening in honor of Miss Anna Shavlin, of Springfield, who is the guest of Miss Regina McDonald.

The guests included Misses Shavlin, Prudence Culhan, Regina McDonald, Nina Dahl, Pauline Pine and Nina Bonham.

Young Man Missing Friends Advertise

Durbin Ward of this city made a trip to Columbus the latter part of last week seeking information regarding his brother, Fred Ward, 23, who left this city some two weeks ago in company with David Stutthard, and has not been heard from since.

An advertisement was inserted in the newspapers of Columbus offering a reward for information concerning the missing young man, as his friends are uneasy about his continued absence and no word from him.

Ward is also interested in the division of his father's estate, and it is said his absence is holding up proceedings of the settlement.

It is claimed Ward went to Columbus and failed to secure a job, and announced his intention of returning home, but failed to arrive.

Horse and Wagon Tumble in Ditch

Saturday afternoon a horse and wagon owned by J. E. Andrews, of Jonesboro, tumbled over a steep embankment into the ditch six feet below while at a point where the road runs through Jonesboro and crosses a large open ditch.

Andrews probably escaped serious injury by being upon the ground on the side of the wagon opposite the ditch. The horse was badly injured and it required considerable effort to extricate it and the wagon.

The point where the accident occurred is where Andrews fenced off the road last summer, and the township trustees purchased a small strip of ground in order to gain the right-of-way desired, and some changes proposed have not yet been made, leaving the place in a very bad condition.

Another Blaze In Burnett Building

Sparks from a defective flue caused a blaze which called the fire department to the Burnett building corner Main and Market streets Monday morning shortly after ten o'clock.

The chemical was all that was required to extinguish the fire and a small hole burned in the shingle roof was the extent of the damage.

Last fall a blaze occurred in the roof of the same building, and at that time it was extinguished with little loss resulting.

Baer a Winner Highly Praised

Mr. Carl J. Baer, formerly of this city, now of Little Rock, Ark., has been made the object of a great deal of merited praise for the successful termination of a campaign for securing funds in a great industrial and commercial enterprise.

In Little Rock he has won the title of the "Million Dollar Man" by his untiring efforts at the head of the Chamber of Commerce of that city. A large front page write-up of the campaign, together with a good likeness of Mr. Baer, appeared on the first page of the Arkansas Democrat of February 29th.

The mention given Mr. Baer is flattering, to say the least.

WHY MEAT AND BUTTER ARE HIGH.

The agricultural department bulletin for February gives some figures which throw some light on the reason for the high cost of meat and butter. The bulletin compares the number of livestock on farms and ranges in the United States at the beginning of 1912 with the previous year. Between the two periods the number of milch cows decreased 124,000, cattle decreased 2,419,000, sheep decreased 1,271,000 and swine decreased 210,000. While the department does not offer any explanation for the decrease, it obviously is due to the high price of grain and the very severe shortage in the hay crop resulting from last summer's drought. The figures tend to confirm the explanations offered by the big packing companies that the advance in price is due in some measure to scarcity of supply. A decrease of 124,000 in the number of milch cows would certainly account for a large falling off in the output of butter.

There is also an interesting table in the bulletin, which shows the people of the United States are greater meat eaters than any of the European nations. The fact has long been known, but the figures given are official. They show that the consumption of meat per capita of the United States is from 120 to 185 pounds; in Great Britain from 105 to 115; in Germany from 66 to 117; in France from 74 to 80; in Italy from 23 to 40; and in the Netherlands 48 pounds.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DEMANDED.

Our nation today is crying out for greater development of our rural communities—the essential units of national development. More thriving towns and more successful farms will mean a more even distribution of prosperity and greater opportunities for all our people.

Our rural communities are crying for fuller recognition and greater development of their local resources. Our communities want their citizens to invest their money and time and talents in local improvements, in making the home towns bigger and better. They want their young people who are growing up to realize and to take advantage of the opportunities offered at home. They want a greater civic pride, a greater feeling of friendliness and mutual dependence among one another, a greater co-operation in producing mutual success, prosperity and happiness.

A long-drawn-out courtship and a business conducted (or attempted) without advertising, are about on a par. Everybody's glad when the "preliminary" stages are finally passed.

The newspapers of a town are the lenses through which friend and foe alike judge a place from the offing. The spirit of the town shows mightily plainly in her journals.

Lovable Women

Those Spoken of Least by Men are Best Liked

By LOUISE LYNDON SIBLEY

WOMEN like the woman who has hitched her wagon to a star and who stops it to take you in. Conventional manners she may not have, but moral and mental manners she does have. She is Mrs. Cleveland or Mrs. Wiggs—friendly, adaptable, steady, dependable, ever cheerful with cheerfulness that is the "calm of deep waters, and not the mere glassiness of the shallow pool"—and thus the same whether she is sedate or vivacious by temperament.

Women like taste and style in dress, and with it that subtle grace they name in the country when they say of one that she is "not too good to speak to common folks."

Women like the woman who possesses some, at least, of the crowd of appealing graces of body, soul and mind resembling the lovely composite we used to make of our history class—who was to wear Polly Smith's eyes and Polly Brown's nose and Polly Jones' chin.

She will be one who can listen well. All the world loves a listener. Because if she listens she cares, thus mutely promising to further one's cherished plans, rather than searching about seeking whom she herself may devour.

Also she must be kind to your fancies and needs in the matter of hospitality. A mile from a lemon she may be, but ever a hostess of infinite resources and sagacity. She will not set before you the pickles and tea which are the chief of her own diet, making believe to flatter you in letting you take her as you find her, as the form has it. The woman women like always has the wholesome and pleasant grapes, and the jug of milk of Baucis and Philemon somewhere in reserve.

Women like a woman who lends "joy and grace to all her little world of friendship, to make her home a place which every guest enters with eagerness, and leaves with reluctance. She lends encouragement to the timid and ease to the awkward, represses violence, restrains egotism, makes controversy courteous."

Women like a woman with ease of manner, the mark of the habitual intercourse with the world—and having put you at your ease and comforted your appetite and shared your joys and divided your sorrows, and made you think you are worth while after all, yourself, and lent you the pattern of her prettiest waist, and discovered that your hand is smaller than hers and her feet are larger than yours—she disappears from discussion, for that woman is best and most liked by woman who is "least spoken of among men, whether for good or evil."

Poetry—Today

THE RUMOR OF THE ROSE.

It's still the midst of winter, but it's running 'long the snows—
The singing of the skylark and the rumor of the rose.
It takes but love to hear it
And love believes it true,
And so she waits by life's green
gates
Until the violet's due.

The snowdrifts block the highway
and the fields are snowed
away.

But still the rumor reaches from the bloomy vales of May

The rumor of the rose, dear,
Blows across the wintry hill,
And April in her beauty walks
Beyond the snowdrift still.

The wild wind roars and rattles at
the windows and the door,
But somewhere silver voices talk of
rosy dreams once more.

There's lots of cold yet, maybe,
But beyond the icy stream
The rumor of the rose walks
On the soft, white feet of dream

OLD FOLKS

Can Live Longer, Doctor Says

"One reason old people do not live to be older, says a famous physician, is because they do not keep up their interest in life. They ought not to let go."

But when they are weakened through poor appetite and loss of sleep, you can't expect them to be so much interested in current events.

Let them first regain most of their former vigor, by using Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation, on which so many elderly people depend for good health.

According to F. R. Schoen, Justice of the Peace, Elk Mountain, Wyo., his neighbor, Chas. T. Bourke, 84 years old, was very sick and ready to give up, but Vinol put him on his feet again and now he says: "Nothing ever helped me like Vinol—I could not do without it."

Vinol is sure to do you good if you are run down and weak—we guarantee this, and will pay back your money if you are not satisfied. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington, C. H., Ohio.

MRS. K. S. MASON'S

Great success as a hair specialist in New York, London and Paris was largely due to the superior hair growing qualities of her Old English Shampoo cream. Now obtainable at Blackmer & Tanquary and other druggists. 25c a tube.

Gerard After Gov. Dix

Believes Governor's Statement in Brandt Case Contempt of Court.

New York, March 4.—The friends of Supreme Court Justice Gerard are pretty certain that he will find an opportunity this afternoon of rebuking Mayor Gaynor and Governor Dix for making public a false and distorted report of court proceedings in the case of Folke E. Brandt. Justice Gerard feels, it is known, that both the governor and the mayor are in contempt of court. While the mayor was the author of the letter which inaccurately criticized Justice Gerard, the governor permitted the letter to issue from Albany.

The justice has not decided as to what shall be done toward punishing Mayor Gaynor and the governor. It is known, however, that he believes some action should be taken in view of the serious insinuations contained in the mayor's letter.

Senator Andrews Faces Bribery Charge This Morning.

Columbus, O., March 4.—The trial of Senator L. R. Andrews of Ironton commenced in Judge Dillon's court this morning. Senator Andrews was indicted jointly with Rodney Diegel on a charge of accepting a bribe from Detective Smiley of the Burns agency, and the testimony in his case will be the same as that which convicted Diegel. It is hoped by the state that the Andrews case will be in the jury's hands by Wednesday night and that the trial of Senator L. E. Huffman of Butler county may begin Thursday morning. Three days, the state thinks, will be sufficient to put on all the witnesses; the state needs to offer to compel Senator Andrews to join the former senate sergeant-at-arms in the penitentiary.

WHY MEAT AND BUTTER ARE HIGH.

The agricultural department bulletin for February gives some figures which throw some light on the reason for the high cost of meat and butter. The bulletin compares the number of livestock on farms and ranges in the United States at the beginning of 1912 with the previous year. Between the two periods the number of milch cows decreased 124,000, cattle decreased 2,419,000, sheep decreased 1,271,000 and swine decreased 210,000. While the department does not offer any explanation for the decrease, it obviously is due to the high price of grain and the very severe shortage in the hay crop resulting from last summer's drought. The figures tend to confirm the explanations offered by the big packing companies that the advance in price is due in some measure to scarcity of supply. A decrease of 124,000 in the number of milch cows would certainly account for a large falling off in the output of butter.

There is also an interesting table in the bulletin, which shows the people of the United States are greater meat eaters than any of the European nations. The fact has long been known, but the figures given are official. They show that the consumption of meat per capita of the United States is from 120 to 185 pounds; in Great Britain from 105 to 115; in Germany from 66 to 117; in France from 74 to 80; in Italy from 23 to 40; and in the Netherlands 48 pounds.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DEMANDED.

Our nation today is crying out for greater development of our rural communities—the essential units of national development. More thriving towns and more successful farms will mean a more even distribution of prosperity and greater opportunities for all our people.

Our rural communities are crying for fuller recognition and greater development of their local resources. Our communities want their citizens to invest their money and time and talents in local improvements, in making the home towns bigger and better. They want their young people who are growing up to realize and to take advantage of the opportunities offered at home. They want a greater civic pride, a greater feeling of friendliness and mutual dependence among one another, a greater co-operation in producing mutual success, prosperity and happiness.

A long drawn-out courtship and a business conducted (or attempted) without advertising, are about on a par. Everybody's glad when the "preliminary" stages are finally passed.

The newspapers of a town are the lenses through which friend and foe alike judge a place from the offing. The spirit of the town shows mightily plainly in her journals.

Lovable Women

Those Spoken of Least by Men are Best Liked

By LOUISE LYNDON SIRLEY

WOMEN like the woman who has hitched her wagon to a star and who stops it to take you in. Conventional manners she may not have, but moral and mental manners she does have. She is Mrs. Cleveland or Mrs. Wiggs—friendly, adaptable, steady, dependable, ever cheerful with cheerfulness that is the "calm of deep waters, and not the mere glassiness of the shallow pool"—and this the same whether she is sedate or vivacious by temperament.

Women like taste and style in dress, and with it that subtle grace they name in the country when they say of one that she is "not too good to speak to common folks."

Women like the woman who possesses some, at least, of the crowd of appealing graces of body, soul and mind resembling the lovely composite we used to make of our history class—who was to wear Polly Smith's eyes and Polly Brown's nose and Polly Jones' chin.

She will be one who can listen well. All the world loves a listener. Because if she listens she cares, thus mutely promising to further one's cherished plans, rather than searching about seeking whom she herself may devour.

Also she must be kind to your fancies and needs in the matter of hospitality. A mile from a lemon she may be, but ever a hostess of infinite resources and sagacity. She will not set before you the pickles and tea which are the chief of her own diet, making believe to flatter you in letting you take her as you find her, as the form has it. The woman women like always has the wholesome and pleasant grapes, and the jug of milk of Baucis and Philemon somewhere in reserve.

Women like a woman who lends "joy and grace to all her little world of friendship, to make her home a place which every guest enters with eagerness, and leaves with reluctance. She lends encouragement to the timid and ease to the awkward, represses violence, restrains egotism, makes controversy courteous."

Women like a woman with ease of manner, the mark of the habitual intercourse with the world—and having put you at your ease and comforted your appetite and shared your joys and divided your sorrows, and made you think you are worth while after all, yourself, and lent you the pattern of her prettiest waist, and discovered that your hand is smaller than hers and her feet are larger than yours—she disappears from discussion, for that woman is best and most liked by woman who is "least spoken of among men, whether for love or skill."

THE RUMOR OF THE ROSE.

It's still the midst of winter, but
It's running 'long the snows—
The singing of the skylark and the rumor of the rose
It takes but love to hear it
And love believes it true,
And so she waits by life's green
gates
Until the violet's due.

The snowdrifts block the highway
and the fields are snowed
away.

But still the rumor reaches from the bloomy vales of May
The rumor of the rose, dear,
Blows across the wintry hill,
And April in her beauty walks
Beyond the snowdrift still.

The wild wind roars and rattles at
the windows and the door,
But somewhere silver voices talk of
rosy dreams once more
There's lots of cold yet, maybe
But beyond the icy stream
The rumor of the rose walks
On the soft, white feet of dream

OLD FOLKS

Can Live Longer, Doctor Says

"One reason old people do not live to be older," says a famous physician, "is because they do not keep up their interest in life. They ought not to let go."

But when they are weakened through poor appetite and loss of sleep, you can't expect them to be so much interested in current events.

Let them first regain most of their former vigor by using Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation, on which so many elderly people depend for good health.

According to F. R. Schoen, Justice of the Peace, Elk Mountain, Wyo., his neighbor, Chas. T. Bourke, 84 years old, was very sick and ready to give up, but Vinol put him on his feet again and now he says: "Nothing ever helped me like Vinol—I could not do without it."

Vinol is sure to do you good if you are run down and weak—we guarantee this, and will pay back your money if you are not satisfied. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington, C. H., Ohio.

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

THROWN FROM WRECKED BUGGY

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Inskeep, Who Were Married in This City Some Three Weeks Ago and Moved to a Farm Near Urbana, Nearly Meet Death When Horse Takes Fright.

Mr. Harold Inskeep and wife (nee Florence Saxton), who were married in this city February 14th, and went to house-keeping upon a farm near Urbana, north of Springfield, nearly met death in a serious runaway accident near Urbana Saturday. Mrs. Inskeep was badly cut and bruised about the face and rendered unconscious for some time, while Mr. Inskeep was painfully injured. No word of the accident reached this city until Monday morning, and a letter was later received, stating that both were improving rapidly and would be fully recovered within a short time.

Monday's Springfield Sun contained the following account of the accident:

"A serious accident happened yesterday when a horse driven by Harold Inskeep became frightened at a furniture wagon. After a rein was broken the animal became uncontrollable and plunged into a bridge opposite the farm belonging to J. M. Wilson.

"Mrs. Inskeep, who was also in the rig, was thrown to the ground and severely cut and bruised. Inskeep was also thrown from the buggy and sustained several cuts about the face.

"Mrs. Inskeep was carried into the Wilson home, unconscious. Dr. Rhodes of Urbana, was summoned. It was found that Mrs. Inskeep was cut on the forehead, above the right eye, on the nose and lip. It was some time before she regained consciousness. Many stitches had to be taken by Dr. Rhodes to close the wounds. Mr. Inskeep was able to walk to the house where his minor injuries were dressed.

"Mr. and Mrs. Inskeep, who live about three miles from Urbana, near the Arrowsmith mill, were on their way to this city. The furniture wagon was going in the opposite direction. A piece of furniture extending from the wagon is said to have caused the runaway. Upon passing, Inskeep's horse was struck by the extension.

"Dr. Rhodes said last night that Mrs. Inskeep was improving."

A COLD, LAGRIFFE, THEN PNEUMONIA

Is too often the fatal sequence, and coughs that hang on weaken the system and lower the vital resistance. R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J., was troubled with a severe la grippe cough. I bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and before I had taken it all the coughing spells had entirely ceased. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound can't be beat." It stops the cough by healing the cause. Refuse substitutes. Blackmer & Tanquary.

Tona Vita Builds Up Run-down People

PHYSICIANS HAVE GREAT SUCCESS WITH TONIC IN THIS COUNTRY.

When people of wealth become debilitated and run down in health they go to high priced sanitariums and health resorts to be built up again. But what about the thousands of debilitated nervous men and women with no vitality or ambition who have neither the time nor money to spare for such luxuries as sanitariums? If you are in this miserable condition read with care the following statement by M. F. Mann, living at 55 Good avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have had indigestion and been all run down for ten years. I could not eat anything at times and was always constipated. My nerves were out of order and I had bad headaches. I believed I had kidney trouble, too, as I had dull pains in my back much of the time. I was easily excited and often when I couldn't eat and had a nervous attack I would suffer severe dizzy spells.

"I heard so much about the new tonic, 'Tona Vita' that I decided to give it a trial and I feel like a different man. I am strong in every way. I sleep well, can eat anything and my nerves are as steady as can be. I have gained four pounds in the last ten days. I believe 'Tona Vita' is the best medicine on earth."

"Tona Vita" was introduced in this country by a number of physicians scarcely a year ago. The tonic has proved the biggest success of any medicine ever before sold to the public.

If you are debilitated and run down don't allow this miserable condition to last a day longer. Let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your health. If it fails your money will be returned by our agent in your city.

Blackmer & Tanquary is the agent for Tona Vita in Washington, C. H. The Approved Formula Company, Dayton, Ohio.

London is Ready For Vaccination

London, Madison county, is stirred up over a threatened epidemic of smallpox, and the doctors have failed to agree that the case in question is smallpox, leaving the people in doubt.

One day last week a man named L. G. Perine, living near London, dropped into a physician's office after being about the town for some time, and was informed that he had smallpox. He was sent home and efforts made to prevent the disease spreading.

Other physicians said the man was not suffering from smallpox, and a physician from the State Board of Health was called, pronouncing the disease smallpox. A quarantine was established and now there is a rush to be vaccinated.

UNDERGO OPERATION AS LENTEN PENANCE

Ashland Society Women Have Appendicitis Party In Hospital.

Cleveland, O., March 4. — The old order surely changes. Before surgical science had reached its present state of efficiency, the formula for the observance of Lent was for a milady of fashion to retire to her home, there to exercise the devil with prayer. Now it is revised to "Enter Lent, retire milady of fashion, with a few social acquaintances, mayhap, to a private hospital ward, there to have cut out that impish appendix and convalesce during the lenten full in the social whirl." There are 76 appendixless patients in local hospitals, received since Ash Wednesday.

For instance, there is Mrs. Minnie Setzer, Mrs. Thomas Reaser and Mrs. Dwight Sheets, young matrons and social leaders of Ashland, O., who lentened themselves their appendices and are doing lenten penance on three white-cots, side by side, in the Huron Road hospital. Mrs. Reaser and Mrs. Setzer both had experienced attacks of appendicitis. Dr. D. L. Moon urged them to undergo an operation in the interval before a possible another attack, but they were just too busy filling their social duties. Then came Lent, and the three met at the last function before Ash Wednesday. They said: "Why not? It wouldn't be at all unpleasant, we three together, and now they are convalescing rapidly and will be back in Ashland before Easter fully recuperated.

NOT OPPOSED TO 8-HOUR LAW

Mrs. Hubbard Sells Self Right With Reading Public.

IS AGAINST VOTE FOR WOMEN

Emphatically Denies That Ohio Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage Is Connected With Any Other Movement Now Seeking to Influence Constitutional Convention. Invites Women of State to Attend Columbus Gathering on March 6.

"For the benefit of those who have misunderstood certain of my public utterances and for the good of the cause, as temporary president, I feel called upon to make very clear that neither I, nor the Ohio Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, are opposed to the eight-hour work law in any shape or form," says Mrs. Hermon Hubbard, president of the state association, in answer to reports which have been in circulation. "At the state meeting on Wednesday, March 6, at Columbus, I shall not only make this very clear, but shall also state that our movement has no direct or indirect connection with any other movement which is now seeking to influence the constitutional convention. That there are others who are opposed to suffrage besides ourselves, we of course know, and that we shall be grateful for their support goes without saying. We are not, however, allied with either the wet or dry factions, with the I and R movement, or those opposed to it, or with any of the other kindred problems of the day.

"Because of this uncertainty, I am extremely desirous that there should be a large outpouring of women at the state meeting, so that there may be no longer any doubt of the sentiment of the majority of the women of Ohio."

WOMEN WAGING HARD FIGHT

Anti-Suffragists Meeting With Tremendous Response.

Nothing is more certain than that one of the pretest lights before the constitutional convention of Ohio will be waged around the proposition to submit to the people for a vote a provision granting women the right to vote. Those who are opposing the measure concede that early organization and much talk have given a certain advantage to the suffragists. Such a tremendous response, however, has been made to the recent appeal to the women of Ohio to rise and assert themselves in proclaiming that they do not wish to vote that there seems to be no doubt that the constitutional convention can be persuaded that a majority of women of Ohio of voting age do not wish to vote.

GIBBONS AGAINST SUFFRAGE

Cardinal Approves Stand Taken by the Anti-Suffragists.

Cardinal Gibbons, the archbishop of Baltimore and senior prelate of the Catholic church in America, is zealous in his defense of the home, which he understands to carry with it opposition to the proposition that women should have the right to vote. In a letter to a society opposed to woman's suffrage in New York, Cardinal Gibbons recently wrote:

"I beg to assure you that I am most heartily in sympathy with the aim of your league, and I approve most strongly the stand it has taken in opposition to woman's suffrage, which, if realized, would be the death blow of domestic life and happiness." Cardinal Gibbons, from his pulpit, has on several occasions opposed giving women the right to vote on the ground that it detracts from their womanly nature and is incompatible with their highest development as "loving mother and dutiful wife."

Woman's rights will not be advanced by a right to vote, nor can her economic status be improved thereby. The right to vote cannot check the law of supply and demand.

DOINGS IN OHIO

What People in the Cities and Towns in the Buckeye State Are Doing and Saying--Notes of Interest.

Leaves Fortune to Veteran.

Sandusky, O., March 4. — Walter Irvin, a civil war veteran living at the soldiers' home, has been notified by attorneys of Dallas, Tex., that he has come into possession of $300,000 in cash, three fine business properties and a paid-up life insurance policy for $100,000, besides a large amount of personal property. It is believed that his home is either in Chillicothe or Portsmouth. The bequest comes as the result of the death of an uncle living at Dallas, who was a wealthy banker.

Denies Making Peace Proposal. Columbus, O., March 4. — National Committeeman Harvey C. Garber made positive denial of a dispatch from Washington given wide circulation to the effect that he had offered to cease warfare on the Harmon forces in Ohio on condition that he be made one of the "big six" to the Democratic national convention at Baltimore.

Murders Woman; Attempts Suicide. Columbus, O., March 4. — Milan S. Coe, 64, professional horse trader, in a fit of jealous rage shot and killed Anna Maddox, 39, keeper of a boarding house, with whom he had lived for several years. Coe made a futile effort to commit suicide, but will live to face a first degree murder charge.

Two Hurt In Explosion. Marion, O., March 4. — Hunting with a lighted match for a dime they had dropped on the crowded courthouse corner, Charles Neeley, 50, and Thomas Stevens, 43, were seriously injured when their match ignited gas seeping through the flagstones. The dime is still missing.

Four Injured In Fire. Toledo, O., March 4. — Four men, three city firemen and the night watchman, were injured in a fire which destroyed the plant of the Owens Bottle Machine company. The loss will reach $100,000, which is amply covered by insurance.

Flames Destroy Piano Factory. Springfield, O., March 4. — Fire, starting from the furnace, destroyed the finishing department at the plant of the Wickham Piano Plate Manufacturing company, just east of this city. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Fire Destroys Glass Factory. Utica, O., March 4. — The Central glass factory, employing 150 men, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $100,000. There is doubt as to whether the plant will be rebuilt.

Jury Convicts Firebug. Sidney, O., March 4. — The jury in the trial of Elmer Harbour, wealthy Pemberton man and politician, accused of arson, returned a verdict of guilty after being out all night.

Breaks Every Bone. Toledo, O., March 4. — Nearly every bone in his body was broken when Eloy Chalberg, 38, fell off a trestle to a pile of slag 40 feet below.

Charged With Killing Daughter. New York, March 4. — John Fennelly, a subway guard, was locked up, charged with murdering his six-year-old daughter after a fire in his apartment in a tenement house had caused her death. The story of his son Richard, who says that the father came home drunk and threw a match carelessly on a chair, is what the police base their charge of homicide on.

SENATOR DEAN

Loses H.S. Home at Fremont When Flames Take Building.

SENATOR'S HOME BURNS

Dean of Fremont Suffers $6,000 Loss by Fire.

Fremont, O., March 4. — The residence of Senator Thomas A. Dean, a frame structure, and all second floor contents were destroyed by fire. Senator Dean was cleaning out a stopped-up furnace and chimney when he noted that flames were bursting from the upper part of the dwelling. A strong wind fanned the flames, which made rapid headway. Loss $6,000, with $4,000 insurance on the house and $1,000 on the contents. Senator Dean saved only the clothes he wore.

C. A. Glosner, 24 Ontario St., Rochester, N. Y., has recovered from a long severe attack of kidney trouble his cure being due to Foley's Kidney Pills. After detailing his case he says: "I am only sorry I did not learn sooner of Foley's Kidney Pills. In a few days time my backache completely left me and I felt greatly improved. My kidneys became stronger, dizzy spells left me and I was no longer annoyed at night. I feel 100 per cent, better since using Foley's Kidney Pills." Tonic in action, quick in results. Try them. SERIOUSLY INJURED IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Inskeep, who were married in this city some three weeks ago and moved to a farm near Urbana, nearly met death when horse takes fright.

Mr. Harold Inskeep and wife (nee Florence Saxton), who were married in this city February 14th, and went to housekeeping upon a farm near Urbana, north of Springfield, nearly met death in a serious runaway accident near Urbana Saturday. Mrs. Inskeep was badly cut and bruised about the face and rendered unconscious for some time, while Mr. Inskeep was painfully injured. No word of the accident reached this city until Monday morning, and a letter was later received, stating that both were improving rapidly and would be fully recovered within a short time.

Monday's Springfield Sun contained the following account of the accident:

"A serious accident happened yesterday when a horse driven by Harold Inskeep became frightened at a furniture wagon. After a rein was broken the animal became uncontrollable and plunged into a bridge opposite the farm belonging to J. M. Wilson.

"Mrs. Inskeep, who was also in the rig, was thrown to the ground and severely cut and bruised. Inskeep was also thrown from the buggy and sustained several cuts about the face.

"Mrs. Inskeep was carried into the Wilson home unconscious. Dr. Rhodes of Urbana, was summoned. It was found that Mrs. Inskeep was cut on the forehead, above the right eye, on the nose and lip. It was some time before she regained consciousness. Many stitches had to be taken by Dr. Rhodes to close the wounds. Mr. Inskeep was able to walk to the house where his minor injuries were dressed.

"Mr. and Mrs. Inskeep, who live about three miles from Urbana, near the Arrowsmith mill, were on their way to this city. The furniture wagon was going in the opposite direction. A piece of furniture extending from the wagon is said to have caused the runaway. Upon passing, Inskeep's horse was struck by the extension.

"Dr. Rhodes said last night that Mrs. Inskeep was improving."

A COLD, LAGRIFFE, THEN PNEUMONIA

Is too often the fatal sequence, and coughs that hang on weaken the system and lower the vital resistance. R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J., was troubled with a severe la grippe cough. He says: "I would be completely exhausted after each fit of violent coughing. I bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and before I had taken it all the coughing spells had entirely ceased. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound can't be beat." It stops the cough by healing the cause. Refuse substitutes. Blackmer & Tanquary.

Tona Vita Builds Up Run-down People

PHYSICIANS HAVE GREAT SUCCESS WITH TONIC IN THIS COUNTRY.

When people of wealth become debilitated and run down in health they go to high priced sanitariums and health resorts to be built up again. But what about the thousands of debilitated nervous men and women with no vitality or ambition who have neither the time nor money to spare for such luxuries as sanitariums? If you are in this miserable condition read with care the following statement by M. F. Mann, living at 52 Good avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have had indigestion and been all run down for ten years. I could not eat anything at times and was always constipated. My nerves were out of order and I had bad headaches. I believed I had kidney trouble, too, as I had dull pains in my back much of the time. I was easily excited and often when I couldn't eat and had a nervous attack I would suffer severe dizzy spells.

"I heard so much about the new tonic, 'Tona Vita' that I decided to give it a trial and I feel like a different man. I am strong in every way. I sleep well, can eat anything and my nerves are as steady as can be. I have gained four pounds in the last ten days. I believe 'Tona Vita' is the best medicine on earth."

"Tona Vita" was introduced in this country by a number of physicians scarcely a year ago. The tonic has proved the biggest success of any medicine ever before sold to the public.

If you are debilitated and run down don't allow this miserable condition to last a day longer. Let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your health. If it fails your money will be returned by our agent in your city.

Blackmer & Tanquary is the agent for Tona Vita in Washington C. H. The Approved Formula Company, Dayton, Ohio.

London is Ready For Vaccination

London, Madison county, is stirred up over a threatened epidemic of smallpox, and the doctors have failed to agree that the case in question is smallpox, leaving the people in doubt.

One day last week a man named L. G. Perine, living near London, dropped into a physician's office after being about the town for some time, and was informed that he had smallpox. He was sent home and efforts made to prevent the disease spreading.

Other physicians said the man was not suffering from smallpox, and a physician from the State Board of Health was called, pronouncing the disease smallpox. A quarantine was established and now there is a rush to be vaccinated.

Price of Sweetcorn Has Been Advanced

The C. E. Sears Company, of this city has raised the price paid farmers for growing sweet corn, from $8 to $9 per ton, and $9 will be the price paid the coming season.

This decision was made public a few days ago, and will be a still greater inducement to Fayette county farmers to raise this profitable crop.

Last year the C. E. Sears Company had over 1200 acres under contract, and this year the acreage will be increased to 1400 or 1500 acres.

Stereopticon Lecture

One of the biggest drawing cards of the state mid-year executive meeting of the Ohio Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which convenes in this city Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, will be the stereopticon lecture to be delivered Tuesday night by Mrs. Rebecca J. Trego, Cleveland, National and State Evangelist. The address will be fine and the views will add greatly to the interest. School boys and girls will be especially interested and are cordially invited with the general public. The lecture is free.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN

One of the big scenes in Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which will hold forth tonight at the Empire theater is the Suawnee river by moonlight. By the aid of lately invented mechanical and electrical devices, actual scenes for miles along the stream, made famous in song and story, are unfolded to the eye in all their mid-summer beauty. The setting is said to be one of the most beautiful and realistic stage pictures ever produced.

UNDERGO OPERATION AS LENTEN PENANCE

Ashland Society Women Have Appendicitis Party In Hospital.

Cleveland, O., March 4. — The old order surely changes. Before surgical science had reached its present state of efficiency, the formula for the observance of Lent was for milady of fashion to retire to her home, there to exercise the devil with prayer. Now it is revised to "Enter Lent, retire milady of fashion, with a few social acquaintances, mayhap to a private hospital ward, there to have cut out that impish appendix and convalesce during the lenten full in the social whirl." There are 76 appendixless patients in local hospitals, received since Ash Wednesday.

For instance, there is Mrs. Minnie Setzer, Mrs. Thomas Reaser and Mrs. Dwight Sheets, young matrons and social leaders of Ashland, O., who lent themselves their appendices and are doing lenten penance on three white-cots, side by side, in the Huron Road hospital.

Mrs. Reaser and Mrs. Setzer both had experienced attacks of appendicitis. Dr. D. L. Moon urged them to undergo an operation in the interval before a possible another attack, but they were just too busy filling their social duties. Then came Lent, and the three met at the last function before Ash Wednesday. They said: "Why not? It wouldn't be at all unpleasant, we three together, and now they are convalescing rapidly and will be back in Ashland before Easter fully recuperated."

NOT OPPOSED TO 8-HOUR LAW

Mrs. Hubbard Sets Self Right With Reading Public.

IS AGAINST VOTE FOR WOMEN

Emphatically Denies That Ohio Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage is Connected With Any Other Movement Now Seeking to Influence Constitutional Convention. Invites Women of State to Attend Columbus Gathering on March 6.

"For the benefit of those who have misunderstood certain of my public utterances and for the good of the cause, as temporary president, I feel called upon to make very clear that neither I, nor the Ohio Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, are opposed to the eight-hour work law in any shape or form," says Mrs. Hermon Hubbard, president of the state association in answer to reports which have been in circulation. "At the state meeting on Wednesday, March 6, at Columbus, I shall not only make this very clear, but shall also state that our movement has no direct or indirect connection with any other movement which is now seeking to influence the constitutional convention. That there are others who are opposed to suffrage besides ourselves we of course know, and that we shall be grateful for their support goes without saying. We are not however allied with either the wet or dry factions; with the I and R movement, or those opposed to it, or with any of the other kindred problems of the day.

MRS. HERMON M. HUBBARD
President The Ohio Association Opposed to Women's Suffrage

"Because of this uncertainty I am extremely desirous that there should be a large outpouring of women at the state meeting, so that there may be no longer any doubt of the sentiment of the majority of the women of Ohio."

WOMEN WAGING HARD FIGHT

Anti-Suffragists Meeting With Tremendous Response.

Nothing is more certain than that one of the prettiest fights before the constitutional convention of Ohio will be waged around the proposition to submit to the people for a vote a provision granting women the right to vote. Those who are opposing the measure concede that early organization and much talk have given a certain advantage to the suffragists. Such a tremendous response, however, has been made to the recent appeal to the women of Ohio to rise and assert themselves in proclaiming that they do not wish to vote that there seems to be no doubt that the constitutional convention can be persuaded that a majority of women of Ohio of voting age do not wish to vote.

GIBBONS AGAINST SUFFRAGE

Cardinal Approves Stand Taken by the Anti-Suffragists.

Cardinal Gibbons, the archbishop of Baltimore and senior prelate of the Catholic church in America, is zealous in his defense of the home, which he understands to carry with it opposition to the proposition that women should have the right to vote. In a letter to a society opposed to woman's suffrage in New York, Cardinal Gibbons recently wrote:

"I beg to assure you that I am most heartily in sympathy with the aim of your league, and I approve most strongly the stand it has taken in opposition to woman's suffrage, which, if realized, would be the death blow of domestic life and happiness." Cardinal Gibbons, from his pulpit, has on several occasions opposed giving women the right to vote on the ground that it detracts from their womanly nature and is incompatible with their highest development as "loving mother and dutiful wife."

Woman's rights will not be advanced by a right to vote, nor can her economic status be improved thereby. The right to vote cannot check the law of supply and demand.

DOINGS IN OHIO

What People in the Cities and Towns in the Buckeye State Are Doing and Saying--Notes of Interest.

Leaves Fortune to Veteran.

Sandusky, O., March 4. — Walter Irvin, a civil war veteran living at the soldiers' home, has been notified by attorneys of Dallas, Tex., that he has come into possession of $300,000 in cash, three fine business properties and a paid-up life insurance policy for $100,000, besides a large amount of personal property. It is believed that his home is either in Chillicothe or Portsmouth. The bequest comes as the result of the death of an uncle living at Dallas, who was a wealthy banker.

Denies Making Peace Proposal.

Columbus, O., March 4. — National Committeeman Harvey C. Garber made positive denial of a dispatch from Washington given wide circulation to the effect that he had offered to cease warfare on the Harmon forces in Ohio on condition that he be made one of the "big six" to the Democratic national convention at Baltimore.

Murders Woman; Attempts Suicide.

Columbus, O., March 4. — Milan S. Coe, 64, professional horse trader, in a fit of jealous rage shot and killed Anna Maddox, 50, keeper of a boarding house, with whom he had lived for several years. Coe made a futile effort to commit suicide, but will live to face a first degree murder charge.

Two Hurt In Explosion.

Marion, O., March 4. — Hunting with a lighted match for a dime they had dropped on the crowded courthouse corner, Charles Neeley, 50, and Thomas Stevens, 43, were seriously injured when their match ignited gas seeping through the flagstones. The dime is still missing.

Four Injured In Fire.

Toledo, O., March 4. — Four men, three city firemen and the night watchman, were injured in a fire which destroyed the plant of the Owens Bottle Machine company. The loss will reach $100,000, which is amply covered by insurance.

Flames Destroy Piano Factory.

Springfield, O., March 4. — Fire, starting from the furnace, destroyed the finishing department at the plant of the Wickham Piano Plate Manufacturing company, just east of this city. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Fire Destroys Glass Factory.

Utica, O., March 4. — The Central glass factory, employing 150 men, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $400,000. There is doubt as to whether the plant will be rebuilt.

Jury Convicts Firebug.

Sidney, O., March 4. — The jury in the trial of Elmer Harbour, wealthy Pemberton man and politician, accused of arson, returned a verdict of guilty after being out all night.

Breaks Every Bone.

Toledo, O., March 4. — Nearly every bone in his body was broken when Eloy Chabberg, 38, fell off a trestle to a pile of slag 40 feet below.

Charged With Killing Daughter.

New York, March 4. — John Fennelly, a subway guard, was locked up, charged with murdering his six-year-old daughter, after a fire in his apartment in a tenement house had caused her death. The story of his son Richard, who says that the father came home drunk and threw a match carelessly on a chair, is what the police base their charge of homicide on.

SENATOR DEAN

Loses His Home at Fremont When Flames Take Building.

SENATOR'S HOME BURNS

Dean of Fremont Suffers $6,000 Loss by Fire.

Fremont, O., March 4. — The residence of Senator Thomas A. Dean, a frame structure, and all second floor contents were destroyed by fire. Senator Dean was cleaning out a stoppered furnace and chimney when he noted that flames were bursting from the upper part of the dwelling. A strong wind fanned the flames, which made rapid headway. Loss $6,000, with $3,000 insurance on the house and $1,000 on the contents. Senator Dean saved only the clothes he wore.

C. A. Glosner, 24 Ontario St., Rochester, N. Y., has recovered from a long severe attack of kidney trouble his cure being due to Foley's Kidney Pills. After detailing his case he says: I am only sorry I did not learn sooner of Foley's Kidney Pills. In a few days time my backache completely left me and I felt greatly improved. My kidneys became stronger, dizzy spells left me and I was no longer annoyed at night. I feel 100 per cent better since using Foley's Kidney Pills. Tonic in action, quick in results. Examination Taken By a Large Class

Seventy-one persons assembled in this city Saturday to try the examination for school teachers, and the announcement of the successful ones will be made in two weeks.

The class was the largest taking the examination since six years ago, when the number was even larger than the present class. Among those in the recent class were many young men and young women who had never tried the examination before.

Clarke Will Vote In Early Summer

Arrangements are being made for a wet and dry vote in Springfield and Clark county some time during the month of May, and the campaign will soon be on, hotly contested by both sides.

What is said to have been the opening gun was fired Sunday by the churches, when it was declared that a few "blind tigers" were preferred to many that "could see." Conditions are said to be improving in the city of Springfield.

HOW TO GET RED HAIR

It has been found that the way to obtain auburn hair is to get a job in a soda ash manufactory. A new soda ash plant started abroad employs many men in the processes of changing the salt as it comes from the huge veins which underlie the locality. When these men went to work they wore hair that ranged from the light blonde of natives of northern Europe to the dark and shiny locks that grow upon the heads of other races. Gradually it was noted that the hair of the blonde men was assuming a golden tinge, and as time wore on the golden hue deepened until now the hair ranges through all the shades of red from a golden auburn to a fiery red. The change from the brown hair of some of the men to the reddish tinge appeared to be slower, while the black hair resisted longest, but now virtually every man who has worked in the plant more than a year can truly say that his hair is red. Mustaches and beards have been affected the same way.

WORK OF INDIAN ASTRONOMER

The ancient Brahmins of India in some points were advanced beyond the Greek astronomy, and in later times Hindu observers of note have arisen at rare intervals. In the 18th century Rajah Jai Singh II. constructed a set of huge observatories at Jai-pur, Delhi, Benares, Muttra and Ujjain. One of the immense instruments at Delhi, built for finding the sun's declination by observing its shadow in circles, is here pictured.

Curious Belief Makes Woman Ill

A woman living on the outskirts of the city dropped into a business house in this city a few days ago, and the proprietor, noticing that the woman was hardly able to walk and appeared to be very nervous, asked her concerning her health.

The man almost fell over when the woman exclaimed: "I'm just worried to death because I believe some one has buried my picture!" "How's that?" queried the dumb-founded man. The woman then explained that if an enemy secured a picture of the one they wanted to die, stuck a pin through the forehead of the picture and then buried it in a "new made grave" that the one whose picture had been buried would slowly die as the photo decayed.

It is said that it required the man a half day to recover from the effects of this marvelous story, and he is still pondering over the wonderful superstition of his customer. "I positively believe that woman will die from nothing else under the sun but worry over that foolish idea of burying her picture."

Examination Taken By a Large Class

Seventy-one persons assembled in this city Saturday to try the examination for school teachers, and the announcement of the successful ones will be made in two weeks.

The class was the largest taking the examination since six years ago, when the number was even larger than the present class. Among those in the recent class were many young men and young women who had never tried the examination before.

Clarke Will Vote In Early Summer

Arrangements are being made for a wet and dry vote in Springfield and Clark county some time during the month of May, and the campaign will soon be on, hotly contested by both sides.

What is said to have been the opening gun was fired Sunday by the churches, when it was declared that a few "blind tigers" were preferred to many that "could see." Conditions are said to be improving in the city of Springfield.

Leaves John D. For the Farm

Ira Eckel, who resigned his position with the Standard Oil company, has moved to Washington C. H., where he will locate on a farm. Mr. Ira Martens has succeeded to the position vacated here with the Standard Oil company and is looking after the city business—Lancaster Eagle.

HOW TO GET RED HAIR

It has been found that the way to obtain auburn hair is to get a job in a soda ash manufactory. A new soda ash plant started abroad employs many men in the processes of changing the salt as it comes from the huge veins which underlie the locality. When these men went to work they wore hair that ranged from the light blonde of natives of northern Europe to the dark and shiny locks that grow upon the heads of other races. Gradually it was noted that the hair of the blonde men was assuming a golden tinge, and as time wore on the golden hue deepened until now the hair ranges through all the shades of red from a golden auburn to a fiery red. The change from the brown hair of some of the men to the reddish tinge appeared to be slower, while the black hair resisted longest, but now virtually every man who has worked in the plant more than a year can truly say that his hair is red. Mistakes and bores have been affected the same way.

WORK OF INDIAN ASTRONOMER

The ancient Brahmins of India in some points were advanced beyond the Greek astronomy, and in later times Hindu observers of note have arisen at rare intervals. In the 15th century Rajah Jai Singh II. constructed a set of huge observatories at Jai-pur, Delhi, Benares, Muttra and Ujjain. One of the immense instruments at Delhi, built for finding the sun's declination by observing its shadow in circles, is here pictured.

OLDEST PAVEMENT

The oldest pavement in cities of the modern world is in Cordova, Spain. The Moors put it down in the ninth century. They also established water works with pipes of lead.

Curious Belief Makes Woman Ill

A woman living on the outskirts of the city dropped into a business house in this city a few days ago, and the proprietor, noticing that the woman was hardly able to walk and appeared to be very nervous, asked her concerning her health.

The man almost fell over when the woman exclaimed: "I'm just worried to death because I believe some one has buried my picture!" "How's that?" queried the dumb-founded man. The woman then explained that if an enemy secured a picture of the one they wanted to die, stuck a pin through the forehead of the picture and then buried it in a "new made grave" that the one whose picture had been buried would slowly die as the photo decayed.

It is said that it required the man a half day to recover from the effects of this marvelous story, and he is still pondering over the wonderful superstition of his customer. "I positively believe that woman will die from nothing else under the sun but worry over that foolish idea of burying her picture."

AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing, and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless, and colorless. Combined with other well-known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge, nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons, and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in three size packages, 12 tablets, 19 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store, Blackmer & Tanquary.

Ugly Knife Drawn During Altercation

FANS EXPECT GIANTS TO WIN AGAIN

AMERICANS WILL WIN

Manager McGraw and His Wife.

Enthusiasts in New York look for the Giants to repeat their National League triumph of 1911. There may be one or two changes in the team by next year, but it is probable that McGraw will take few chances of breaking up the machine which he has had so much labor in constructing. The players are almost all youngsters, and with this season's experience behind them should all play better ball next year. Their work collectively should improve, and it has been demonstrated time and again that in almost any branch of athletics a team which works smoothly and is well balanced is a stronger aggregation than a collection of individual stars, each playing his own hand. If an all-star team were to be picked by students of the game it is probable that, exclusive of pitchers, but one man from the Athletics, one from the Giants, one from Detroit and one from the Cubs would be selected, and yet these four teams finished first and second in their respective leagues. It is the club that plays together and presents the fewest weak spots that brings home the bunting. Of course luck in the matter of illness and injuries plays a large part in the result. Every time a new cog is introduced the machine for a time runs less smoothly.

Gotham fans realize that the Giants will have no easy road to travel. For a large part of the season just past there were five teams in the National League, any of which had a great chance for the pennant. Some of those same teams and possibly two of the remaining clubs will undoubtedly be in the thick of the battle next season. Form and advance count for so little in baseball that any effort to pick next season's leaders at this time is more than useless. In spite of this fact the true devotee of the game is sure to spend his entire winter in conjecture and speculation.

The picture shown of Manager McGraw and his wife was taken just prior to their departure for Cuba, where the Giants played several exhibition games.

SCOUT IRWIN IS OPTIMISTIC

Believes Manager Wolverton Has Winning Infield Combination—Knight Is Grand Player.

Scout Arthur Irwin of the New York Americans, does not believe Manager Wolverton will find it such a tremendously difficult task to round out a winning infield.

"Jack Knight," quoth the boss scout, "is a wonderful ball player when he is in physical condition to play and when he is free from worry over other things. Last season he wasn't in on western trip, Gardiner played second base very nearly as well as any one in the league. He hit something like .365. Then his father was taken ill and died. Earl always has been a home boy and his father's death knocked all the ginger and life out of him.

He probably would have recovered from that shock and picked up in his playing again but for an attack of illness that laid him up for ten days or two weeks. Another year he ought to be one of the sensations of the year. He always has been a classy fielder, and his work during the first half of the 1911 campaign was enough to satisfy me that he's a natural hitter.

"If he ever gets to hitting again there will be no trouble at second base. Third is taken care of with Dolan and Hartzell to pick from, and if Knight is right the short field will be in good hands. An infield composed of Chase, Gardiner, Knight and Dolan, with the middle two playing the sort of baseball they are capable of playing, would look mighty sweet."

shape half the time, and along toward the end the fans roasted him so unmercifully that he simply couldn't play his game.

"Grief and illness were all that stood between Earl Gardiner and a wonderful year. Until his father died, while the team was in St. Louis on the sec-

England Has Little Chance to Take Olympic Honors.

Yankees Expected to Secure Victory Because of Better Coaches—New Champions Constantly Coming to Light.

England's greatest athletes admit that the representatives of John Bull have little chance to win the Olympic honors in Sweden next year, and say that America will win for one great reason. That is that the wearers of the stars and stripes are better coached from their youth up. England has no coaches of any consequence, while America is overrun with fine developers of athletic material, even down to the preparatory schools, and they are constantly discovering new champions.

Some of the greatest American athletes of the day were discovered accidentally when there was no indication that they possessed any particular ability.

An example of how a coach can bring out a man who doesn't know that he is good, is found in J. P. Jones, the great Cornell runner, who broke the amateur mile record last spring. Under the English system Jones would never have been heard of. He went to Cornell in poor health and was almost dragged out for track work.

At first he promised nothing, but the sharp eye of John Moakley perceived in Jones a future good one, and he kept after the Washington youth until Jones made good. If Moakley had not been there, Jones would probably have quit in disgust soon after he started.

Hundreds of examples might be pointed out where athletes have been improved wonderfully in a short time by the correction of a simple fault that they would never have found out themselves.

When Mike Murphy went back to the University of Pennsylvania this last time he found there a youth named Haskins, good for about 4:40 in the mile. Haskins had tried and tried, and was about to give it up. Three weeks under Murphy saw Haskins doing 4:28 consistently, and the next year he owned the intercollegiate record for the mile.

In 1905 Ernie Hjertberg who is now coaching the Swedish athletes, got hold of James P. Sullivan, a willing young miler, whose limit seemed to be around 4:42. Hjertberg to everyone's surprise put Sullivan to running 220-yard dashes, cutting out altogether his customary distance work. Right up to the day of the championship young Sullivan got his sprint diet.

Then Hjertberg sent him into the mile event with instructions to wait until the last 220 and beat it. Sullivan not only won his race, but he ran the fastest mile ever done by an American born athlete up to that time—4:22.45. Had he been left to himself, Sullivan would have been still doing long work in training and 4:40 in his races.

Jim McGuire may scout for the Tigers.

Baltimore will probably sell Noah Hanline to Chattanooga.

From big league reports, ball players now are being bought by weight.

One man's idea of absolutely no sport at all is a six days' bicycle race.

If Cravath can show, the Phillies, it is said, will let John Titus out next spring.

Continuous baseball might be more profitable, but it is not necessary to keep up interest.

Picking pennant winners has already begun. At this time of year all the teams are on top.

Those who find all sports dull except football might try watching a game of intercollegiate.

The average fight fan would rather see ten rounds of really clever boxing than a knockout before the seats are warmed.

AMERICANS WILL WIN

England Has Little Chance to Take Olympic Honors.

Yankees Expected to Secure Victory Because of Better Coaches—New Champions Constantly Coming to Light.

England's greatest athletes admit that the representatives of John Bull have little chance to win the Olympic honors in Sweden next year, and say that America will win for one great reason. That is that the wearers of the stars and stripes are better coached from their youth up. England has no coaches of any consequence, while America is overrun with fine developers of athletic material, even down to the preparatory schools, and they are constantly discovering new champions.

Some of the greatest American athletes of the day were discovered accidentally when there was no indication that they possessed any particular ability.

An example of how a coach can bring out a man who doesn't know that he is good, is found in J. P. Jones, the great Cornell runner, who broke the amateur mile record last spring. Under the English system Jones would never have been heard of. He went to Cornell in poor health and was almost dragged out for track work.

At first he promised nothing, but the sharp eye of John Moakley perceived in Jones a future good one, and he kept after the Washington youth until Jones made good. If Moakley had not been there, Jones would probably have quit in disgust soon after he started.

Hundreds of examples might be pointed out where athletes have been improved wonderfully in a short time by the correction of a simple fault that they would never have found out themselves.

When Mike Murphy went back to the University of Pennsylvania this last time he found there a youth named Haskins, good for about 4:40 in the mile. Haskins had tried and tried, and was about to give it up. Three weeks under Murphy saw Haskins doing 4:25 consistently, and the next year he owned the intercollegiate record for the mile.

In 1905 Ernie Hjertberg, who is now coaching the Swedish athletes, got hold of James P. Sullivan, a willing young miller, whose limit seemed to be around 4:42. Hjertberg to everyone's surprise put Sullivan to running 220-yard dashes, cutting out altogether his customary distance work. Night up to the day of the championship young Sullivan got his sprint diet.

Then Hjertberg sent him into the mile event with instructions to wait until the last 220 and beat it. Sullivan not only won his race, but he ran the fastest mile ever done by an American born athlete up to that time—4:22.45. Had he been left to himself, Sullivan would have been still doing long work in training and 4:40 in his races.

GOSSIP AMONG SPORTS

Jim McGuire may scout for the Tigers.

Baltimore will probably sell Noah Hanline to Chattanooga.

From big league reports, ball players now are being bought by weight.

One man's idea of absolutely no sport at all is a six days' bicycle race. If Cravath can show, the Phillies, it is said, will let John Titus out next spring.

Continuous baseball might be more profitable, but it is not necessary to keep up interest.

Picking pennant winners has already begun. At this time of year all the teams are on top.

Those who find all sports dull except football might try watching a game of intercollegiate.

The average fight fan would rather see ten rounds of really clever boxing than a knockout before the seats are warmed.

The Keel Boat.

A few minutes later they had separated, George to hurry away in search of the horse, and Carrington to pass back along the shore until he gained a point opposite the clearing. He whistled shrilly three times, and after an interval of waiting heard the splash of oars and presently saw a skiff steal out of the gloom.

"Who's there?" It was Bess who asked the question.

"Carrington," he answered. "Lucky you ain't met the other man!" she said as she swept her skirt alongside the bank.

"Lucky for him, you mean I'll take the oars," added Carrington, as he entered the skiff.

Slowly the clearing lifted out of the darkness, then the keel boat became distinguishable, and Carrington checked the skiff by a backward stroke of the oars.

"Hello!" he called.

There was no immediate answer to his hail, and he called again as he swept the skiff forward. He felt that he was fishing an bow.

"What do you want?" asked a surly voice.

"You want Slosson?" quickly prompted the girl in a whisper.

"I want to see Slosson!" said Carrington glibly and with confidence, and once more he checked the skiff.

"Who be you?"

"Murrell sent you," prompted the girl again, in a hurried whisper.

"Murrell—?" And in his astonishment Carrington spoke aloud.

"Murrell?" cried the voice sharply.

"—sent me!" said Carrington quickly, as though completing an unfinished sentence. The girl laughed nervously under her breath.

"Row closer!" came the sudden command, and the Kentuckian did as he was bidden. Four men stood in the bow of the keel boat, a lantern was raised aloft and by its light they looked him over. There was a moment's silence broken by Carrington, who asked:

"Which one of you is Slosson?" And he sprang lightly aboard the keel boat.

"I'm Slosson," answered the man with the lantern. The previous night Mr. Slosson had been somewhat under the enlivening and elevating influence of corn whisky, but now he was his own cheerless self, and rather jaded by the passing of the hours which he had sacrificed to an irksome responsibility. "What word do you fetch from the captain, brother?" he demanded.

"Miss Malroy is to be taken down river," responded Carrington.

Slosson swore with surpassing fluency.

"Say, we're five able-bodied men risking our necks to oblige him! You can get married a damn sight easier than this if you go about it right—I've done it lots of times. Not understanding the significance of Slosson's allusion to his own matrimonial career, Carrington held his peace. The tavern-keeper swore again with unimpaired vigor. "You'll find mighty few men with more experience than me," he asserted, shaking his head.

"But if you say the word—"

"I'm all for getting shut of this!" answered Carrington promptly, with a sweep of his arm. "I call these pretty close quarters!"

Still shaking his head and muttering, the tavern-keeper sprang ashore and mounted the bank, where his slouching figure quickly lost itself in the night.

Carrington took up his station on the flat roof of the cabin which filled the stern of the boat. It was remembering that day in the sandy barony road—and during all the weeks and months that had intervened, Murrell, working in secret, had moved steadily toward the fulfillment of his desires! Unquestionably he had been back of the attack on Norton, had inspired his subsequent murder, and the man's sinister and mysterious power had never been suspected. Carrington knew that the horse-thieves and slave stealers were supposed to maintain a loosely knit association, he wondered if Murrell were not the moving spirit in some such organization.

"If I'd only pushed my quarrel with him," he thought bitterly.

He heard Slosson's shuffling step in the distance, a word or two when he spoke gruffly to some one, and a moment later he saw Betty and the boy, their forms darkly silhouetted against the lighter sky as they moved along the top of the bank. Slosson, without any superfluous gallantry, helped his captives down the slope and aboard the keel boat, where he locked them in the cabin, the door of which fastened with a haap and wooden peg.

"You're boss now, pardner!" he said, joining Carrington at the steering oar.

"Well cast off then," answered Carrington.

Thus far nothing had occurred to mar his plans. If they could but quit the bayou before the arrival of the man whose place he had taken the rest would be, if not easy of accomplishment, at least within the realm of the possible.

"I reckon you're a river-man?" observed Slosson.

"All my life."

The line had been cast off, and the crew with their setting poles were forcing the boat away from the bank. All was quietly done, except for an occasional order from Carrington no word was spoken, and soon the unwieldy craft glided into the sluggish current and gathered way. Mr. Slosson, who clearly regarded his relation to the adventure as being of an official character, continued to stand at Carrington's elbow.

"What have we between here and the river?" inquired the latter. It was best, he felt, not to give Slosson an opportunity to ask questions.

"It narrows considerably, pardner, but it's a straight course," said Slosson. "Black in yonder, ain't it?" he added, nodding ahead.

The shores drew rapidly together; They were leaving the lake-like expanse behind. In the silence, above the rustling of the trees, Carrington heard the first fret of the river against its bank. Slosson yawned prodigiously.

"I reckon you ain't needing me?" he said.

"Better go up in the bow and get some sleep," advised Carrington, and Slosson, nothing loath, clambered down from the roof of the cabin and stumbled forward.

The ceaseless murmur of the rushing waters grew in the stillness as the keel boat drew nearer the hurrying yellow flood, and the beat of the Kentuckian's pulse quickened. Would he find the raft there? He glanced back over the way they had come. The dark ranks of the forest walled off the clearing, but across the water a dim point of light was visible. He fixed its position as somewhere near the head of the bayou. Apparently it was a lantern, but as he looked a ruddy glow crept up against the skyline.

From the bow Bunker had been observing this singular phenomenon. Suddenly he bent and roused Slosson, who had fallen asleep. The tavern-keeper sprang to his feet and Bunker pointed without speaking.

"Mebby you can tell me what that light back yonder means?" cried Slosson, addressing himself to Carrington; as he spoke he snatched up his rifle.

"That's what I'm trying to make out," answered Carrington. "Hell!" cried Slosson, and tossed his gun to his shoulder.

What seemed to be a breath of wind lifted a stray lock of Carrington's hair, but his pistol answered Slosson in the same second. He fired at the huddle of men in the bow of the boat and one of them pitched forward with his arms outspread.

"Keep back, you!" he said, and dropped off the cabin roof.

His promptness had bred a momentary panic, then Slosson's bull-like voice began to roar commands; but in that brief instant of surprise and shock Carrington had found and withdrawn the wooden peg that fastened the cabin door. He had scarcely done this when Slosson came tramping aft, supported by the three men.

Calling to Betty and Hannibal to escape in the skiff which was towing astern the Kentuckian rushed toward the bow. At his back he heard the door creak on its hinges as it was pushed open by Betty and the boy, and again he called to them to escape by the skiff. The fret of the current had grown steadily and from beneath the wide-flung branches of the trees which here met above his head, Carrington caught sight of the star-specked arch of the heavens beyond. They were issuing from the bayou. He felt the river snatch at the keel boat, the buffeting of some swift eddy, and saw the blunt bow swing off to the south as they were plunged into the black shore shadows.

But what he did not see was a big out of the impenetrable gloom and clutched the side of the keel boat. Incident with this there arose perfect babel of voices, high-pitched and shrill.

"Sho—I bet it's him! Sho—it's Uncle Bob's nevy! Sho, you can hear 'em! Sho, they're shootin' guns! Sho!"
